DIPLOMATIC ROLE PLAYING TO BE USED
IN UM SUMMER POLITICAL SCIENCE COURSE

MISSOULA--

Students will play the roles of diplomats and other government officials in a political science course at the University of Montana during the UM summer Pre-Session Monday through Friday, June 14-18, on the Missoula campus.

Students enrolled in the course entitled Political Science 395, "Inter-nation Simulation," will play the roles of foreign policy advisers, heads of state and others involved in foreign policy formulation and administration.

Emphasis in the class will be placed on foreign policy, crisis management and decision making.

Dr. Louis D. Hayes, professor and chairman of the UM Department of Political Science, will teach the five-day course.

Additional information and summer session bulletins and applications may be obtained by contacting the UM Center for Continuing Education and Summer Programs, Room 107, Main Hall, University of Montana, Missoula, Mont. 59801, or by phoning 243-2900.
